Remarks

The management inquiry could not substantiate any of the 4 allegations made by the Reporting Party. The interview with the Respondent revealed that they denied using the term "hard-on", but admitted using the term "chub" or "chubby," which the Respondent claims was a reference to a fish. Interviews with witnesses do not corroborate any of the Reporting Party's allegations. An analysis of the supervisor's computer hard drive revealed no evidence to support the Reporting Party's allegation that the Respondent had inappropriately used the Supervisor's computer.

Management will distribute to all staff at ZSE a written advisory on FAA Standards of Conduct and on Norms of Acceptable Behavior in the Workplace. Management will also advise staff about the restrictions on the use of inappropriate slang.

Coordinated with AHR.
